THE CONSOLIDATED ROAD

THE CERTIFICATES OF THE NEW STOCK OF THE COMPANY.

The Company's Debentures-The Directors' Monthly Meeting-Depew Was There-Where the Consolidated Road is to Make a Million Dollars Easily—That Free Ride -Seven Thousand Stockholders-The Five Hour Train.

Certificates of the new stock of the New York, New Haven and Hartford rallroad are being delivered rather slowly. We understand that these certificates are forwarded by the transfer agent in this city to the Farmers Loan & Trust company in New York, who act as registrar for the stock, in lots of 500 or 1,000. Each certificate requires, to be a good delivery, four signatures each, the amount has to be written in figures and letters, and also cut into the certificate by a punch or stamping machine, and checked by the clerks of both corporations, all of which takes time, but it is for the safety of the investor that the greatest care should be taken. The stock which was in demand at the first of October to cover sales made against rights, advanced at that time to 188 and a fraction. This has slightly declined. The nominal entures are quoted from 137-138. They are offered at the close at 1371/2. Considerable portion of the new debentures are being registered. Nearly the whole amount of the first issue was put out as coupon bonds, but the presentation of the coupin to secure the right to the ew debenture has caused the holders and rallroad clerks much more labor and risk, than if the issue of the bonds had been registered.

Hankers here predlet a much freer sale of the stock after the delivery is nade, as the fall in the rights induced many persons to take up their stock in he hope of selling it later. The debenures, on the contrary, appear to be auch more generally taken as a permaent investment and are held firmly. The new loan of the reorganized New England taken by the New Haven ompany, is expected to be resold at a price which, especially if the bonds are guaranteed, will not the latter company ot less than $1,000,000 on the transac-

It is pos sible the subject will come up for discussion at the meeting. Vice President Hall said Saturday: "Our road has large that it was necessary to cut off the old custom of getting a free ride to the stockholders' meeting. We have 1,600 miles of road and 7,000 stockholders, and of course we could not go into the free transportation business on that line. Why, our extra cars would hardly be sufficient to transport all who would come. The stockholders can find no fault with the rule, for it is only business to make such a ruling."

The official denials of the purchase of the Meriden trolley system have been so qualified that slight doubt is enter tained here that the New Haven com pany will soon take that property. President Clark presided at monthly meeting of the directors of the Consolidated road Saturday. All of the

THE ROAD'S NEW TIME TABLE. Owing to certain complications th New York, New Haven and Hartford Rallroad company has changed its plans with reference to the inauguration of the new time table. It had been intend ed to put the new table into effect to day or to-morrow, but the confusion ineldent upon the taking off of various summer trains and the starting of new trains has rendered it necessary to postpone the publication of the new time table for one week. On Sunday October 20, the new schedule will go into effect. On Saturday night the Lenox train over the Berkshire division will Sawalyarngi Salave is the native pastor at Parna near Ahendnagar, and being personally known to Mis Hume of the city missions, had writ-ten her a letter in the native language stating his need of a horse to reach his twelve out stations. This letter being brought to the attention of the Sunday school yesterday by the superintendent Judge Cleaveland, the children votes to send from their Sunday offerings the $10 needed to provide this native pastor with the horse. DELIGHTFUL HUNTING TRIP

ginfa Plantation-An Elegant Old Time Mans on House Where Many Presidents Have Been Entertained-A Para-

Mr. Edward Malley of this city has ust returned from a hunting trip to Claremont, Surrey county, Va., where he was the guest of Hon. H. B. Hill ormerly a Philadelphian, to whom Mr. Malley was introduced by a mutual friend, Mr. Frank Cameron of New York city. Mr. Hilt has a well established reputation in sporting circles as skilled hunter. His plantation borders on the James, and his elegant old style, luxuriously furnished mansion from its capacious verandas com mands a view of the river for miles in either direction. Parallel rows of broad-armed oaks and magnolias line either side of the fifty-foot pathway leading to the landing, where a naphtha launch, forty-two feet in length and fitted up with all modern appliinces, awaits the owner and his guests. The residence of Mr. Hilt possesses some historic interest, as its former owner entertained within its hospitable walls every president up to the time of Lincoln, the late war rudely terminating this long line of distinguished ing for $1.40 per box. guests. Mr. Hill met Mr. Malley by appointment in Philadelphia, and during his ten days' visit the latter was entertained by the planter and his sor n regal style. The surrounding forests abound in deer, wild turkeys and smaller game, while the river furnishes pickling. weak and other fish for the skilled angler. The rail bird congregates here by millions, seeking at dusk the lowlands that border the river for food and shelter, and, when the tidal conditions are favorable, from ten to twenty dozen are considered a fair estimate for each sportsman. Mr. Hilt and son were heartily seconded by Judge Farrell, Mr. Sharp, a master builder an other gentlemen, in making Mr. Malley's visit agreeable. He speaks of his trip and reception in glowing terms, and one that will live in memeory as
